Ngāi Tahu Seafood Limited Director

Kia hiwa rā!

A vacancy on the Board of Ngāi Tahu Seafood has arisen as a consequence of the retirement of an existing Director. The Board seeks an additional member with the skill and experience to complement the existing Directors, Brian Rhoades, Ross Keenan, and Rob Pooley.

This role demands applicants demonstrate sound business and financial acumen and previous leadership experience, preferably in an export industry. A knowledge of the seafood industry is considered desirable, but not essential. Directors must demonstrate a strong affinity with Ngāi Tahu values and aspirations, as well as a commitment to both the optimisation of this asset and the protection of the resources for which it is responsible.

This continues to be an exciting time for Ngāi Tahu and Directors' roles present a significant opportunity to make a real contribution to the future of the iwi. Te Rūnanga o Ngāi Tahu are dedicated to the personal and professional development of their people and strive to support, guide and grow their capability.

Please circulate this pānui to your networks and encourage those with the skill and experience sought, to complete the application process by filling out the attached form (to ensure registration in the Directors Database) and sending it with a copy of their CV to Pip Bell, Human Resources Co-ordinator,pip.bell@ngaitahu.iwi.nz on or before Tuesday 25 October 2011.

Nāu mai, haere mai, tauti mai!
